NEWSLETTER

OCTOBER 2009

From the President...

Happy October!

I hope that you are enjoying this spectacular time of year, when the communities that comprise the Chatterleigh Association are in their full autumn splendor. We are so fortunate to live in a neighborhood with such beauty.

As many of you may know, every two months or so, Board members of the Chatterleigh Association leave their homes and families to attend a meeting that is called for the single purpose of serving you. During these Board meetings, we discuss issues of common concern, and make real effort to preserve all that is good; to improve where change is needed; and to identify developments that could compromise the quality of life that is so important to us all. When you have a moment, please remember to thank those of your neighbors who serve on the Board, and who so selflessly donate time and talent for the greater good.

There are many opportunities to serve the Chatterleigh Association. Although we have a strong nucleus of volunteers, we are always looking for new insight and ideas. Please contact chatterleighassociation@hotmail.com <<mailto:chatterleighassociation@hotmail.com>> if you would like to discuss opportunities to serve in the Association.

(In addition to more formal acts of service, all of us are reminded and encouraged to be courteous to and considerate of our neighbors and visitors to the community. A friendly greeting or an act of kindness to a neighbor can foster a sense of community in ways that transcend any single act of service.)

Finally, as a reminder that our neighborhood provides the (almost) perfect combination of city access and country living, please be aware that there have been multiple sightings of coyotes in the neighborhood. Please remember to (1) avoid leaving food of any kind (including pet food) outdoors; and (2) avoid leaving pets unattended during the hours between dusk and dawn, when coyotes are most active. Of course, in the event that you see a coyote, you should not under any circumstances approach the animal(s). In addition, children should be reminded to never approach an unfamiliar animal, even if, as in the case of a coyote, the unfamiliar animal looks like an otherwise nice dog.

Please feel free to keep us updated on any sightings of coyotes or other animals of concern to residents.

Best wishes to all for a happy, healthy and prosperous autumn!

Late Summer/Early Fall in a Suburban Garden

Laurie Taylor-Mitchell

There is plenty going on in a fall garden. For the birds, most territorial battles, nesting, going crazy over babies just out of the nest, are over. Their breeding plumage has often given way to the duller colors of migration. The hummingbirds have left, and some will arrive at the Gulf of Mexico to prepare for the 18-22 hour flight across the Gulf, in which they burn muscle to make it across. Many don't make it. We'll see some of the ones that do make it to Mexico and Central America, and back up to Maryland, in late April or early May.

Almost all of the Robins have left and one only hears an occasional cranky squeak or two. Soon the "Poor Sam Peabody" birds, the White Throated Sparrows, will sing for a few days down near the stream before heading farther south. We'll have to wait until the spring to hear them again.

My beloved ancient Cottonwood down near the stream is nearly dormant, but its few leaves still "speak" in any breeze. The meadow of native plants by the stream (we stopped mowing our easement several years ago) has so many different insects, I've just bought a "bug book" and will start doing a yard list next year, in addition to my bird list. There must be at least twenty species of bumblebees alone down there, along with a spectacular golden-orange iridescent little wasp I've never seen before. I stare at them, inches away, as they scramble over the goldenrod or other late flowers. Then a large Tiger Swallow-Tail butterfly landed on a flower, was immediately ambushed by a huge Praying Mantis, a formidable predator. The killing efficiency of a Praying Mantis in the wild makes the "Terminator" look benign.

So I go on to the next patch of invasive plants, pull them out, put down native flower seeds, and dream of what I might see on that space next spring and summer

Community News of Interest and Opportunities to Get Involved!

(Deadlines for submissions for January newsletter: 12/30/09)

- 1) The Chatterleigh Community Association has covenants that run with the land and are binding (they can be legally enforced) regardless of whether you knew they existed when you purchased your home and regardless of whether you pay your dues. To avoid unnecessary hassle and hard feelings, please request a copy of the covenants for your neighborhood and submit a completed Covenants Review Application (found in this newsletter) before starting any fence, home addition, or structure on your property. This process is to protect all home owners and our property values. Thank you for your understanding. Covenants may be requested from our Covenants Team leader: Charly Gibbons (410)583-2276 or charly1129@comcast.net.
- 2) The Chatterleigh community has introduced a new logo. Check it out on the Chatterleigh Community Website. www.chatterleigh.org
- 3) Want to receive email updates regarding issues impacting the Chatterleigh Association community? The community's Urgent Response Email Network has been sending out updates on the the expansion of Loch Raven High School, the Hocker farm development, Rock church development, Baltimore Lutheran School issues, crime in the community and related meetings. If you have not been receiving these emails and would like to, please submit or resubmit your email address, name and street name to chatterleighassociation@hotmail.com. This email site is an effective way for residents to be alerted to neighborhood issues quickly. Not only will you receive updates, you can also send messages to the rest of the community.
- 4) If you would like to advertise your business in our annual community directory or our quarterly community newsletter, please contact Phil Maher of FATA at (410)578-3600 or pmaher@fataonline.com. The advertising contracts run year to year and are reasonably priced.
- 5) If you use an advertiser listed in our newsletter or directory, please let them know where you saw the ad. The more business they hear about, the more likely they are to advertise with us again! Thank you!
- 6) "Slow Children at Play" signs: If you would like to purchase from the county and post on your property a sign that reads, "Slow Children at Play", please call (410)887-3554 and ask for an information packet on the signs. Please remember to drive slowly and watch out for children playing and people walking.
- 7) Pay your voluntary association dues! For just $100.00 a year you can support your community association and have a vote at the annual meeting in May as well as special community meetings throughout the year. These dues enable us to maintain our monuments and common areas, print and send special mailings to the community, send out our quarterly community newsletters, annual directory and much more. To learn more about how the dues are used, contact the Urgent Response Email Network at chatterleighassociation@hotmail.com. To pay your voluntary dues, send a check made out to "The Chatterleigh Association, Inc." to our treasurer, Charly Gibbons P.O. Box 42243, Baltimore, MD 21284-2243. If the annual dues are a financial hardship, the Association may consider assistance. Contact Charly Gibbons at (410)583-2276.
- 8) 2007-2008 Chatterleigh Directories were delivered last year! If you did not receive one, please contact Charly Gibbons, Corresponding Secretary for a copy.
- 9) Chatterleigh Association Website! Chatterleigh has a Web site -- www.chatterleigh.org.

The site was created for free by Ryan Snyder, who moved with his wife, Mary, and children Ryan Jr. and Ali to Kirkcolm Road last year. The site includes the newsletter, articles and photos of neighborhood events, photos of community "landmarks," and information sent on Hotmail. It also offers links to community resources and lists of board members and standing committees. We owe Ryan our thanks for his work designing our attractive Web site. Send potential contributions to chatterleighassociation@hotmail.com.
- 10) The Association is looking for volunteers from the community to monitor the ongoing Hocker/Limekiln Farm Development project. If you are interested, contact Laurie Mitchell at (410) 583-0774.
- 11) The Board would like to remind all residence to please put trash out after dark and put your trash can back away before going to work but no later than 9:00 AM. By doing this our community will be much more eye appealing.

We are also having complains the both contractors as well as homeowners are leaving grass cuttings in the street as well as on their neighbor's driveways .Please show consideration to your neighbors
- 12) The Chatterleigh Association, Inc. has a post office box for all correspondence.

Attention Card Players: check out these friendly local Restaurants!

By Mary Pipkin and Laurie Taylor-Mitchell

Don't want to host your 8-member bridge or card playing group at your home the next time?

Take note: You can have lunch and then play cards at the following local restaurants (the ones we know of - there may be others). Do call ahead.

Patrick's Restaurant, 550 Cranbrook Rd., Cockeysville, MD 21030-3797, 410-683-0604

Ryan's Daughter Restaurant, 600 E. Belvedere Ave, Baltimore, MD 21212-3713, 410-464-1000

Liberatore's in Timonium, 9515 Deereco Road, Timonium, Maryland 21093, 410-561-3300

Wegmans in Hunt Valley, 122 Shawan Rd., Cockeysville, MD 21030-1325, (410) 773-3900; you can get your lunch downstairs at the "buffet" and they will let you use a room upstairs to play cards afterwards.

Hamburger Heaven

Every now and then, my husband and I have the hankerin' for a juicy hamburger. Sure – they're simple enough to cook up in our own backyard, but they don't seem to taste nearly as good as the ones you get from your favorite pub or burger joint.

When we first moved in, our incredibly nice next door neighbors, The Finch's were kind enough to invite us over for a glass of wine, share their INVALUABLE list of numbers for handy men, and turn us on to their favorite hamburger spot, McCabe's. We were lucky enough to go make it there a number of times before it closed. I called recently to find out if and when they were reopening and got nowhere fast. And so started my quest to find another place for the perfectly prepared patty. Under the guise of "research" here's my "go to" list for a good one, in no particular order:

Burger Bros.

Under $10 a burger

14 Allegheny Ave • Towson, MD 21204
410-321-1880

www.burgerbrosburgers.com

The burgers here are hand formed, big and bursting with char-broiled flavor. Served in red plastic baskets lined with cheerful picnic style checked paper, one bite will take you straight to burger heaven. The rolls they come on are fresh and fluffy. We indulged in a side of crispy onion rings and fresh cut fries – skin on. I love a place that offers up malt vinegar and self serve ketchup cups – no tricky packets to wrestle with. Each burger is made to order – and there are a slew of fun toppings to choose from. If you're with someone who's not in a burger state of mind – they make a mean chicken sandwich too.

– and the fries are fantastic. This is the only place where I would use the word "greasy" to describe these perfectly prepared juicy burgers – and I mean that in the BEST possible way. Interestingly enough, they're right next to McDonald's on York Rd. There's no drive thru – but there's no contest as far as I'm concerned.

Five Guys

Under $5 a burger

936 York Road • Towson, MD 21204
410-321-4963

www.fiveguys.com

When it comes to getting the best bang for your buck, it's hard to beat Five Guy's. The Washington Post refers this franchise as "The Willy Wonkas of Burgercraft." They've been ZAGAT rated since 2001 and voted Washingtonian Magazine's "Readers' Choice" #1 Burger every year since 1999. According to their website, there are over 250,000 possible ways to order a burger at Five Guys. They use only fresh, never frozen, ground beef. In fact, there are no freezers in Five Guys locations, just coolers. Toppings are free

Ryan's Daughter

@ $10

600 E Belvedere Ave • Baltimore, MD 21212-3713
410-464-1000

www.rdirishpub.com

If you're looking to pair up a pint with that patty – then Ryan's Daughter in Belvedere Square is just the ticket. It's cozy and old school. We recently took my mother in law there and she couldn't get over the size of her flame broiled burger. In the winter, there's a fire going – and it's a family friendly place for an early Friday night dinner.

Enjoy – and don't forget to grab a few extra napkins!

Brookview Farms Update

Hello from the newest members in the Association – at a recent board meeting, the topic of the monuments in the neighborhoods has come up – inspection of the Brookview Farms monuments has shown some severe cracks in them. These will soon be professionally inspected and repaired. This is one quick example where our new membership in the Association is benefiting us.

Also, be alert for suspicious activity – recently one of our neighbors had a car window broken out.

THREE WAYS TO BOOST WINTER WEIGHT LOSS

by Ashely Semesky

1. Up your fiber. For setting your digestive system free of toxins and waste, fiber tops the list. Fiber also plays a big role when it comes to satiating your hunger. Experts at the Mayo Clinic report that high-fiber foods require more chewing time, giving your body more time to register when you're no longer hungry, so you're less likely to overeat. Also, fiber-dense foods (like broccoli, kale, spinach and whole wheat flour) make meals feel larger in your stomach, so they keep you full for a longer period of time.

Fiber found in vegetables, fruits and whole grains could be your best defense against packing on winter pounds!

2. Turn up the heat on fat loss. In a recent study from the Endocrine Society, "tastants" (the fat-fighting substance in spices) have been shown to help make you feel fuller by stimulating your taste buds and sense of smell. Researchers say that tastants can reduce excessive hunger, which can make sticking to clean eating a lot easier in the long run.

3. Stress less, lose fat. The winter months can take a toll on your mood. Snow, freezing temperatures and a lack of a vitamin D infusion from the sun can leave you stressed and your waistline in trouble. Cortisol (the body's "stress hormone") is rapidly produced in the body when stress hits. This imbalance throws off blood sugar levels, metabolism and mental well-being. Studies also link cravings to the production of cortisol, which is why you might feel the need to reach for some Ben & Jerry's in times of distress. According to a study out of the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, people who are less stressed experience greater fat loss and are able to keep weight off over time

FITNESS CORNER

Sauteed Chicken Thighs with Lemon and Capers

Servings: 4

Preparation Time: 10 min

Cooking Time: 20 min

Level of Difficulty: Easy

The chicken's tender and juicy and the sauce has a great salty-savory thing going on. A nice, easy recipe any time of year.

Ingredients

- 1 spray(s) cooking spray
- 1/4 cup(s) all-purpose flour
- 1/4 tsp black pepper
- 1 1/4 pound(s) boneless, skinless chicken thigh(s), about 8 thighs
- 1 cup(s) canned chicken broth
- 2 Tbsp fresh lemon juice
- 1 1/2 Tbsp capers

Instructions

Coat a 12-inch nonstick skillet with cooking spray; set over medium-high heat.

In a small bowl, combine flour with pepper; sprinkle over chicken. Brown chicken in a single layer in prepared skillet until golden on bottom, about 6 minutes; flip and brown on second side, about 4 minutes more. Remove chicken from skillet; set aside. (If necessary, brown chicken in two batches.)

Pour broth into skillet and scrape up any browned bits with a wooden spoon. Return chicken to skillet, cover and reduce heat to low; simmer until heated through, about 3 minutes. Stir in lemon juice and capers; heat for 30 seconds. Yields 2 chicken thighs and about 1 1/2 tablespoons sauce per serving.

SOUP'S ON!

There's nothing more comforting than a hot bowl of soup on a cold day. Whether you enjoy it for lunch or a light supper – there's something satisfying about its warm goodness. This time of year, seasonal squash is a great ingredient to stir up! Here's one of my favorite recipes for Butternut Squash Soup from Barefoot Contessa. The apple gives it a nice sweetness and the curry a mild kick. My 17-month old son Will enjoyed dunking grilled cheese strips into it! (We'll keep the veggie part of it to ourselves!)

-Adrienne Hammel Aaronson

Butternut Squash and Apple Soup

- 2 tablespoons unsalted butter
- 2 tablespoons good olive oil
- 4 cups chopped yellow onions (3 large)
- 2 tablespoons mild curry powder
- 5 pounds butternut squash (2 large)
- 1 1/2 pounds sweet apples, such as McIntosh (4 apples)
- 2 teaspoons kosher salt
- 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- 2 cups water
- 2 cups good apple cider or juice

Warm the butter, olive oil, onions, and curry powder in a large stockpot uncovered over low heat for 15 to 20 minutes, until the onions are tender. Stir occasionally, scraping the bottom of the pot.

Peel the squash, cut in half, and remove the seeds. Cut the squash into chunks. Peel, quarter, and core the apples. Cut into chunks.

Add the squash, apples, salt, pepper, and 2 cups of water to the pot. Bring to a boil, cover, and cook over low heat for 30 to 40 minutes, until the squash and apples are very soft. Process the soup through a food mill fitted with a large blade, or puree it coarsely in the bowl of a food processor fitted with a steel blade.

Pour the soup back into the pot. Add the apple cider or juice and enough water to make the soup the consistency you like; it should be slightly sweet and quite thick. Check the salt and pepper and serve hot.

Recipe courtesy Ina Garten, Copyright 2001, Barefoot Contessa Parties!

TIP: Heat soup bowls for a few minutes in the microwave or fill with hot water from the kettle – your soup will stay hotter longer!
